notes from April

Alternative pages for fall/winter and winter/spring included below.

I usually just call the whole semester Fall or Spring but then it confuses my kids, so I decided to label them more accurately this year.

I have lots of posts about planning your year and homeschool planning on my Substack and on my blog.

Here are the links for ideas & tips:

(Just search for “planning”)

There is not one right way to plan.

Do what works for you and your home.

Anything here is a suggestion or a way to sort through the variety of information you are facing at the beginning of the school year.

Take what works and drop what doesn't. You are the expert for your situation.

♥ happy planning!
